

CONTENTS

	Page
Preface by ERIK LUNDBERG	v
Analytical Table of Contents	xi
1. Functions and Criteria of a System of Social Accounting, by RICHARD STONE	1
2. Experiences in the Use of Social Accounting in Public Policy in the United States, by GERHARD COLM, with an Appendix by Mary W. Smelker	75
3. Les Expériences Récentes de l'Emploi de la Comptabilité Sociale par la Politique Économique en France, by JAN MARCZEWSKI, with a Summary in English	112
4. The Recent Use of Social Accounting in the United Kingdom, by E. F. JACKSON	148
5. Recent Experiences in the Use of Social Accounting in the Netherlands, by G. STUVEL	160
6. Government Product and National Income, by SIMON KUZNETS	178
7. Intertemporal Comparisons of Real National Income: an International Survey, by J. B. D. DERKSEN	245
8. Some Problems in the Measurement of Changes in the Real Geographical Product, by W. B. REDDAWAY	267

ANALYTICAL TABLE OF CONTENTS

1

Functions and Criteria of a System of Social Accounting

by RICHARD STONE

	Page
I. The Social Accounts and the Classification of Transactions	1
II. The Social Accounts as a Catalogue of Information Needed	4
III. The Social Accounts and the Presentation of Economic Information	5
IV. The Advantages of a System of Social Accounting	7
V. Economic Functions and the Structure of Accounts	8
VI. The Amount of Detail to be Retained in an Accounting System	11
VII. The Principles of Defining the Entries in an Accounting System	14
VIII. The Production (or Operating) Account	18
IX. The Consumption (or Appropriation) Account	26
X. The Adding to Wealth (or Resting) Account	29
XI. A Numerical Example Based on the British Official Estimates for 1948: the First Form of Accounts and their Consolidation	29
XII. Notes on the Derivation of the Figures	39
XIII. The Second Form of Accounts	49
XIV. A Discussion of the Example: The Sectors Used	54
XV. The Operating Accounts	56
XVI. The Appropriation Accounts	62
XVII. The Resting Accounts	65
XVIII. The Account for the Rest of the World	68
XIX. A Description of an Accounting System in Terms of the Theory of Sets	68
XX. Conclusions and Acknowledgments	72

Experiences in the Use of Social Accounting in Public Policy in the United States by GERHARD COLM

	Page
Introduction	75
I. The Evolution of Economic and Fiscal Policies and National Economic Accounting in the United States	77
1. Estimates of national income for records of past achievements
2. Measurement of national income and the government net contribution as a basis for compensatory fiscal policy during the depression
3. Measurement of the inflationary gap during the war
4. Measurement of the task of postwar reconversion
II. Methods of National Accounting in the United States	82
III. The Use of National Economic Accounts for a Policy of Economic Stabilization	87
1. Economic projections in the President's Economic Reports
2. Economic objectives as a guide for economic adjustments
3. Economic objectives as a guide for formulating and appraising specific economic programmes and business plans
IV. Economic Objectives as a Guide for Policy in an Economy of Predominantly Private Enterprise	92
1. Projections of an 'imperative' and an 'orientation' character
2. The use of economic objectives in the democratic process of policy formation
Appendix by Mary W. Smelker	98

3

Les Expériences Récentes de l'Emploi de la Comptabilité Sociale
par la Politique Économique en France by JAN MARCZEWSKI

	Page
Introduction: Les origines et l'évolution de la comptabilité sociale en France. Les documents publiés après 1945. Le rôle spécial des Rapports de la Commission du Bilan	112
I. Les Rapports de la Commission du Bilan et leur incidence sur la Politique Économique	115
1. Le Premier Rapport de la Commission du Bilan
2. Les mesures de politique économique inspirées par le Premier Rapport de la Commission du Bilan
3. Les résultats du Prélèvement Exceptionnel et le Second Rapport de la Commission du Bilan
4. Les recommandations du Second Rapport de la Commission du Bilan et leur incidence
II. Les Enseignements de l'Expérience Française	131
1. Les insuffisances de la comptabilité sociale française
2. L'apport positif de la comptabilité sociale française
3. Les problèmes posés par l'expérience française
Conclusion	139
English Summary	140

4

The Recent Use of Social Accounting in the United Kingdom
by E. F. JACKSON

I. The Published National Accounts of Past Years	148
II. The Uses of National Accounting and National Budgeting	152
III. The Methods Used in Model-Building in the United Kingdom	155
IV. Some Weaknesses of the British Models	157

5

Recent Experiences in the Use of Social Accounting in the Netherlands by G. STUVEL

	Page
I. Introduction	160
II. The Social Accounting Framework	161
III. The Use of the Social Accounts for Central Economic Planning: the Commodity Plan	167
IV. Index Numbers	169
V. Structural Relationships between the Items of the National Budget: the Monetary Plan	172
VI. Concluding Remarks	174

6

Government Product and National Income by SIMON KUZNETS

I. Defining the Net Product of Government	178
1. The setting of the problem
2. Purchases not for resale (current official approach)
3. Social framework as end-purpose
4. The three past approaches
5. Criteria for identifying final product of government
6. Statistical problems
7. Concluding comments
II. Treatment of Government in the Income Shares Approach	208
1. Indirect taxes
2. Direct business taxes
3. Direct taxes on individuals
4. Government product out of savings
5. Government product out of inflation
6. Subsidy to business
7. Domestic transfers
8. Transfers to foreign countries
9. Summary of analysis

7

Intertemporal Comparisons of Real National Income: an International Survey by J. B. D. DERKSEN

	Page
I. Introduction	245
II. Deflation of National Income by Price Indices	246
III. Measuring the Components of the National Expenditure in Constant Prices	250
IV. Measuring Real National Income as a Combined Index of the Output of Goods and Services	252
V. The Valuation of National Income	256
VI. Proposals for Measurement of Real National Income	260

8

Some Problems in the Measurement of Changes in the Real Geographical Product by W. B. REDDAWAY

I. Introduction	267
II. Some Logical Problems	271
III. Problems Connected with the Government: General Review	276
IV. Government Service to Industry	279
V. Government 'Final' Services	285
VI. Some Notes on Measurement Problems	287
VII. Conclusions	291