

ANNOUNCEMENT

The Danish Central Bureau of Statistics publishes the results from a research project, financed by the Rockwool Foundation, on

TIME AND CONSUMPTION

Gunnar Viby Mogensen (ed.): Time and consumption, Danmarks Statistik, Copenhagen 1990, 440 p., with reports on 10 research projects, using re-analysis of existing statistical material, and 4 new surveys:

Søren Brodersen, Danmarks Statistik:

A historical analysis of time use and consumption.

Thomas Gelting, The Treasury:

Projection of time use and consumption in the future, under fixed and changed working hours and capital use.

Niels Buus Kristensen, University of Copenhagen:

The development of the service sector in relation to changes in income, time use and relative prices.

Eszter Körmendi, Danmarks Statistik:

Time use trends in general in Denmark, the relation to the preference structure, and the work sharing at home.

Benedicte Madsen, University of Århus:

The problem revisited on a casuistic level.

Gunnar Viby Mogensen, The Rockwool Foundation project at Danmarks Statistik:

Time use on do-it-yourself work, and on untaxed activities.

Lisbeth Pedersen, The Danish National Institute of Social Research:

Determinants of time use patterns for men and women in the work force.

Niels Ploug, The Danish National Institut of Social Research:

Time use patterns outside the work force.

Erik Ib Schmidt, formerly The Treasury:

The life cycle and the time use and consumption patterns.

Rewal Schmidt Sørensen, Danmarks Statistik:

Time use and taxation.

The book, and information about other books in Danish from the Rockwool Foundation project, is available from:

Danmarks Statistik, 11 Sejrøgade, DK-2100 Copenhagen Ø, from September 27, 1990. Telephone 31 29 82 22, and telefax 31 18 48 01.

