1991 JOHN W. KENDRICK PRIZE

We are pleased to announce the winners of the John W. Kendrick Prize for outstanding contributions to the Review in 1991:

First Prize. Barbara Wolfe and Robert Moffitt: "A New Index to Value In-Kind Benefits," December, 1991.

Second Prize. Utz-Peter Reich: "Concept and Definition of Income in the National Accounts," September, 1991.

Third Prize. Robert Eisner: "The Real Rate of U.S. National Saving." March, 1991.

The awards are based on a vote of the Editorial Board of the Review. All articles published in the Review in 1991 are eligible for the awards. The prize is made possible through a generous donation from John W. Kendrick, a long-standing member of the IARIW.

COMPETITION FOR YOUNG STATISTICIANS FROM DEVELOPING COUNTRIES

1993

The International Statistical Institute (ISI) announces the Sixth Competition among young statisticians from developing countries who are invited to submit a paper on any topic within the broad field of statistics, for possible presentation at the 49th Session of the ISI to be held in Florence, Italy, in 1993.

Participation in the competition is open to nationals of developing countries who are living in a developing country, who were born in 1961 or later. Papers submitted must be unpublished, original works which may include material from participants' university theses.

The papers submitted will be examined by an international Jury of distinguished statisticians who will select the three best papers presented in the competition. Their decision will be final.

The authors of the winning papers will be invited to present their papers at the Florence Session of ISI, with all expenses paid (i.e. round trip airline ticket from his/her place of residence to Florence plus a lump sum to cover living expenses).

Manuscripts for the Competition should be submitted in time to reach the ISI not later than January 1, 1993.

The rules governing the preparation of papers, application forms and full details are available on request from the ISI Permanent Office. The address is as follows:
